During a pre-trial conference on February 6, 2007, the defendant, through his counsel, Robert Goldsmith, requested a continuance of the trial date in this matter from February 20, 2007, until March 5, 2007. The defendant sought a continuance because his current counsel was only recently appointed to represent the defendant and defendant and his counsel believed that counsel would need additional time to adequately prepare for trial in this matter. The defendant has executed and filed a Waiver of his Speedy Trial waiving his rights under the Sixth Amendment and the Speedy Trial Act, 18 U.S.C. §§ 3161-3174, through March 30, 2007. The Government did not oppose the defendant's request for a continuance.

After considering the defendant's request for a continuance, together with the balance of the records and files herein, the Court now finds and rules as follows:

The Court finds that the ends of justice served by granting the requested continuance of the trial date outweigh the best interests of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial, in that it would be unreasonable to expect adequate preparation for trial without a continuance because of the fact that defendant's current counsel was only recently appointed and the need for further
